LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA 90024

March 9, 1990

The Honorable Patricio Aylwin Azócar
President of the Republic of Chile
La Moneda
Santiago, Chile

Your Excellency:

Please accept my sincere congratulations on your recent election as President of Chile. I have had a long personal and institutional interest in both your country and its people and have traveled there many times. As you may be aware, I was responsible for the University of California/University of Chile Convenio which provided a wide range of opportunities for faculty and student exchange from 1965 to 1975 and beyond.

I very much appreciated your invitation to attend the inauguration ceremonies and regret that a pressing schedule has made it impossible for me to attend. However, Vice Chancellor Elwin V. Svenson will be there to represent me, UCLA and the University of California. I know that he will be talking with key members of your administration regarding specific programs and how UCLA might become involved in future developments in higher education. Please be assured that we are very anxious to do whatever we can to help Chile during this important time in its history.

While I realize that you will have a very busy schedule, we would very much welcome the opportunity to have you visit our campus whenever it might be convenient. Many members of our faculty are involved in projects in Chile and would be most eager to meet with you.

With best regards,

Sincerely,
