Athens, 2 March, 1992

Dear President,

As a member of Amnesty International, the world-wide independent organization for the protection of Human Rights, I would like to express my profound concern at the death threats received by members of the Comité de Defensa de los Derechos del Pueblo, in Santiago, on 29 January, 1992.

Earlier on that day the offices of CODEPU were broken into. Nine telephone calls followed. The callers identified themselves as the Frente Nacionalista de Combate and said that they knew who the members of the CODEPU were and that they would kill them.

I am urgently appealing to the authorities of Your country to undertake everything necessary to protect the lives and physical integrity of all members of CODEPU by investigating the source of the threats and by bringing those responsible to justice.

Furthermore I kindly urge Your government to take all adequate measures to ensure that members of human rights groups are able to conduct their legitimate activities without fear of reprisal.

Thank You for Your time and attention and for the efforts I am convinced You will make in this case.

Yours sincerely and respectfully
