Admission to the Eleventh Edition of WHO'S WHO IN THE WORLD is strictly governed by standards first developed in 1899 by founding publisher A.N. Marquis.

It is our adherence to these original standards of inclusion that enable us to maintain the high degree of biographical reference value that has come to characterize our titles for the past ninety-two years.

It is no surprise, then, that inclusion in WHO'S WHO IN THE WORLD will be reserved exclusively for those leading men and women whose influence and importance are truly international in scope.

And because of this policy of selectivity, stringently enforced by the Marquis Editorial Review Board, WHO'S WHO IN THE WORLD has been long recognized as the foremost biographical guide to outstanding international figures.

I am paying by check or credit card and wish a certificate of recognition.

Note: Because of the distinctive hand lettering required in its production, your certificate will arrive separately, six to eight weeks after your book.

When purchased in the U.S. for business or professional reference use, this book is a tax-deductible expense.
