The Declaration of World Peace Organization

Whereas since the dawn of human civilization malice, hatred, scuffling, bloodshed, war and devastation have been continuing, in the society of man, and consequently not a single day in the annals of humankind has passed without bloodshed;

Whereas during the present time of the greatest development of human civilization ensued some thousand years back, that is to say, during this second half of the twentieth century even, nearly six hundred and fifty crores (six thousand and five hundred millions) of people of the world are still suffering endlessly from apprehension of war, communal jealousy and mutual fighting;

Whereas all people of the world want to get rid of this absence of tranquillity, apprehension of war, terrible devastation etc;

whereas all people of the world want to get the touch of unadulterated peace;

Whereas established on the basis of religion, Colour, language region and economy five fundamental policies of differentiation that are prevalent among the human race, are Considered to be the origins of this long continued malice, Contention, hostility, war, devastation etc;

whereas it is considered indispensable to extinguish those five abominable polices of differentiation for the establishment of permanent peace in the world;

Whereas it is Considered indispensable to form a unified and undivided human society after the extinction of all policies of differentiation prevailling on mankind of the world;

Whereas it is considered necessary to build one and integrated world by consolidating all states of the world with their all frontier lines extinct;

Now therefore, in pursuance of the abolition of the aforesaid five fundamental policies of differentiation and for the purpose of the establishment of permanent peace in the world, World Peace Organization is pleased to make and proclaim the following declaration;

1. After the creation of a non sectarian attitude and disposition among the followers of all religions of the world, a doctrine of humanity at length shall have to be established in the light of abstract and essence of all religions that are prevalent among humankind.
2. After the creation of a non, sectarian attitude and disposition among all communities and races of mankind, a system of compounding of blood among the males and females of all religions shall have to be introduced (explanation of the system of compounding of blood has been given in the book entitled "World Peace")
3. The world shall have to be supposed and regarded as a country of the entire humankind and by cherishing this world in man's heart as motherland, universal brotherhood shall have to be established therein.
4. To build a peaceable world free from demarcation shall have to be earnestly tried.
5. Production of all sorts of weapons shall have to be stopped in the world and there shall be no use of any weapon in the world which will be no more divided by marking of aboundary between several states and regions.
6. To award the titles of valour and gallantry to heroes for extensive success in the warfield and to impel man to become great warriors shall have to be dejected. All young men and women of the world shall have to be discouraged to join the armed forces and thereby a world free from hostilities and warfare shall have to be constructed.

7. A mixed culture shall have to be formed by a comprehensive practice of art, culture literature and language of the entire people of the world without discrimination.
8. A cosmopolitan institution like UNO shall have to be assisted in increasing its practically applicable power and force on the world and it should be a persistent attempt that the power of UNO on the entire human society of the world shall have to be made symmetrical with that of sovereignty.
9. Widespread publicity shall have to be carried on to take the entire human race in the same family.
10. An apophthegm that All the Human being on Earth is one Community Shall have to be fully established.
11. A cosmos supposed to be mother land of an undivided human society of an integrated world shall have to be built. that is to say, a universal state shall have to be established.
